Message To Families

I hope this message finds you safe. The recent weather event in East County has left many without power and water, causing significant challenges for our community. We understand the added stress this may bring, especially for our high school students facing disruptions in their end-of-semester finals.

Please be assured that CAL is committed to a student-first approach in resolving and mitigating these issues. We appreciate your understanding and cooperation during these challenging times.

Here is essential information about CAL's schedule over the next week:

Monday (1/29) Grade day, No School

- Monday (1/22): Student Academic Support Day
- Tuesday (1/23): Student Academic Support Day
- Wednesday (1/24): Staff Equity Professional Development, no school
- Wednesday (1/25): Staff Equity Professional Development, no school
- Friday (1/26): Student Academic Support Day
- Monday (1/29): Grading day, no school

CAL has traditionally adopted a modified schedule during finals week, and we've consistently made attendance optional due to conflicts with the schedules of our home high school partners.

6 - Student Support Days

No new assignments will be given to CAL students during the optional attendance days. We encourage students to utilize this time by attending CAL or working from home to complete any outstanding assignments before the weather disruptions.

Teachers will be present at CAL during these optional days, and bus transportation will be provided for CAL students to and from their home high schools. This ensures students can attend, in any capacity, to collaborate with teachers one-on-one, engage in lab work, or utilize school equipment to complete assignments.

○ - Monday, 1/29, Grading Day (No School)

Monday, 1/29, is designated as Grading Day, with no school in session. CAL follows the GBSD school calendar, and the district has adjusted its schedule to provide teachers with additional time to support students during finals week.

• Tuesday 1/30 -- Back To Normal!

CAL will resume its regular schedule, marking the beginning of the second semester.

Recognizing the broader difficulties at hand, if you have questions or concerns, feel free to contact us. We're here to support you.
